INTERNSHIP EXPERIENCE

Find your future at the FBI.

The FBI Honors Internship Program offers behind-the-scenes access to Bureau employees from a variety of backgrounds and experiences, united in creating a safer, more just future for generations to come. Our 10-week paid internship allows you to discover job opportunities that match your career interests and develop the skills you need to face some of today's most pressing issues and advance your career.

The FBI is a community of innovators and achievers, with a shared love of collaboration and teamwork — continuously partnering to improve our programs and accomplish the FBI mission. We're looking for interns who represent a diverse cross-section of viewpoints and experiences and who are eager to take on unique challenges in the fields of finance, technology, operations, and more.

As an FBI Intern, you'll attend trainings and briefings, support investigations, and tackle wide-ranging projects with some of the most talented minds in our industry. This experience will give you valuable networking tools and hands-on training in communication, team dynamics, data analytics, and leadership.

You'll also have access to the FBI's multimillion dollar online training portal with professional development courses that cover business and financial expertise, as well as intelligence and behavioral science. These courses and workshops are conducted by our National Academy instructors who also train FBI special agents and our global law enforcement partners.

We're proud that the Bureau is a multigenerational agency committed to creating an inclusive environment where people from every background, culture, and perspective belong, are able to succeed, and can realize their full potential.
