

2021 SEAS GRADUATE STUDENT PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT FUND

GW School of Engineering & Applied Science
W. SCOTT AMEY CAREER SERVICES CENTER

SEAS Career Services partnered with Leidos to cover the financial cost for students to participate in professional development activities. Through a variety of virtual events and digital resources, graduate students received exposure to industry knowledge that will be critical to their career success.

7 Masters and 2 PhD students

7 Engineering & Tech Disciplines

- systems engineering
- biomedical engineering
- electrical engineering
- mechanical & aerospace engineering
- engineering management
- computer science
- cybersecurity

$1,000 Investment

With some fees as low as $15, recipients were able to join multiple organizations.

2 Virtual Conference Attendees

National Society of Black Engineers Convention

11 Associations

- Institute of Industrial and Systems Engineers
- International Council on Systems Engineering
- American Society of Civil Engineers
- Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers
- National Society of Black Engineers
- American Society of Mechanical Engineers
- National Fire Protection Association
- American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics
- Society of Flight Test Engineers
- Biomedical Engineering Society
- Project Management Institute

COMMUNITY

As a woman reentering into the STEM career workforce and a doctoral student, the fund has enabled me to reconnect with others in my fields of interest.

- Nesrine T.

ACCESS

Becoming a member has provided an opportunity to interact with professional flight test engineers, which is an extremely small and tightknit group. These interactions will allow many more professional opportunities throughout my career.

- Travis D.

OPPORTUNITY

Attending the conference was an awesome experience. It was an opportunity to get some certifications and training. I got an internship and a full-time offer in software engineering.

- Elijah E.