Dear Calvin student:

We know the beginning of the school year can be a big adjustment, and even more so if this is your first year at Calvin! We also realize that you are likely being bombarded with all sorts of information, so don’t feel like you have to do anything with these resources right now. Our encouragement would be to check them out sometime during the fall semester. We’re in your corner, cheering you on and ready to help you prepare for your next steps.
