

Resources for Graduate Students

Masters, PhD and Postdoc students are welcome to attend events for undergraduates, including Life Design Lab events, employer info sessions and career fairs. Connect with the Life Design Lab via Handshake to find office hours and details on general events or graduate-specific events.

Handshake: For All Students

Create and keep an updated profile in Handshake to get access to events, resources, jobs, employers and appointments. Take the time to fill out your profile and select your post-grad career plans and career interests, which will allow employers who are hiring students with advanced degrees to find you.

Masters Students

➤ Workshops

Grad-specific workshops help you tailor your resume, interview skills, and job search to your talents. Search Handshake for events.

➤ Drop-in Hours

Regardless of major or career aspirations, the Life Design Lab is committed to equipping students with the tools and mindset necessary to build fulfilling, purpose-driven careers. You can meet with a Life Design Educator during drop-in hours each week. You can find the drop-in hours schedule on our website homepage : <https://imagine.jhu.edu/channels/life-design-lab/>

Grad Career Accelerator

This program is designed to guide you through three key steps that must be completed:

- Preparation: Asynchronous content and assignments on Canvas to help prepare job search materials and job search strategy
- Workshops: These interactive sessions will be led by our graduate Life Design Educators
- Mentor Match Up's with Alumni: Engage with mentors and alumni to receive personalized feedback on your job readiness.
- Plus, gain access to exclusive job opportunities with employers through Jobs for Jays!

Life Design Masters Video Library

We also want to remind you about the Life Design Video Library, which gives you on-demand access to career and life design content anytime, anywhere. Inside, you'll find over 100 practical videos covering all aspects of career development. To get a code to access complete this form.
