WHAT STANDS OUT TO EMPLOYERS

Employers look for candidates who highlight their strengths, tailor their information to the position, and communicate the value of their experience.

Highlight strengths: Assess your skills, strengths, and personal characteristics.	What are you good at? What are your areas of experience and skill, and where do you see this in action?

GREATEST STRENGTHS	WHERE DO YOU SEE EVIDENCE OF THESE STRENGTHS IN YOUR EXPERIENCES?

Reflect on experience: For any work experience, campus involvement, volunteer work or leadership roles, consider the following:

WHAT DO YOU DO? Your job description: break down the various tasks of your position

HOW DO YOU DO IT? Your unique strengths: reflect on your approach to your tasks and how your strengths come out

WHO IS INVOLVED? The people: consider those you help/serve, those you work with, and those you work for

WHY DO YOU DO IT? Outcomes: add what skills you learned and the results of your tasks and responsibilities

WHERE IS THE CONNECTION? Transferable skills: connect what you learned in your role to what you want to do

Tailor your content: Research employers to find who they serve and what is important to them.

Carefully review the job description and take note of tasks and qualifications that you feel most confident you can match. Highlight your best stuff, make everything relevant, and put the most important information first (paid or unpaid).

Reflect on what you will be doing as part of a future position/career, and then review your experiences: where do you see connections? Can you make these transferable skills more obvious?

Use keywords on your résumé from the position's description.

Did You Know...

Every past position can be related to your next position by highlighting transferable skills and how they benefit employers in other work settings.

Refer to Guide to Transferable Skills.

CRAFT AND ARRANGE YOUR LANGUAGE

Enhance your bullet points: Start arranging your what, how, who, why, and where of each experience into bullets. Each experience should provide evidence and articulate your impact. You should quantify (add numbers) and qualify (add important details) to enrich content.

APPLICANT TRACKING SYSTEM TIPS

ATS software is used by most employers to manage applicants and scan resumes to determine qualifications before recruiters can review them. To make sure you are getting through, consider using:

- Keywords and exact phrases from job descriptions on your document and online application
- Simple formatting, avoiding tables, headers/footers, symbols, boxes, columns, and designs
- Generic fonts like Arial, Calibri, or Times New Roman
- Common names for your section headers (Education, Work Experience, Leadership, Skills)

Extra tip: As you apply to jobs, check your junk mail as automatic emails from ATS's often go there
