

CAREER READINESS COMPETENCIES

What are Career Readiness Competencies?

Career readiness is life readiness and is the key to ensuring a successful entrance in the workforce. There are eight career readiness competencies that are transferable across all occupations and industries. When looking to hire a new employee, companies are interested in the skills each candidate brings to the table and career readiness competencies are the primary skills employers look for when hiring.

EQUITY & INCLUSION

Equity and inclusion focus on the demonstration of awareness, attitude, knowledge, and skills required to equitably engage and include people from all different cultures and backgrounds. Learn more about what equity and inclusion looks like HERE.

How do I grow my equity and inclusion?

- Participate in a study abroad experience to expand and explore your cultural competency.
- Get involved with local community service opportunities.
- Engage with others from diverse backgrounds during your time at UNT.
- Attend events and workshops hosted by the Division of Inclusion, Diversity, Equity and Access.
- Listen to speakers of different backgrounds and experiences through the Distinguished Lecture Series.

CAREER CENTER SPOTLIGHTS

MEET EVAN TOM

Evan Tom is a Career Coach for the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences supporting Geography, Geographic Information Systems (GIS) and Computer Science, Japanese, German, French, Spanish, Social Sciences, Economics, and Integrative Studies. He received a Bachelor of Music in Jazz Studies from the University of North Texas and a Master of Music in Jazz Studies from California State University Long Beach. As a graduate student, he served as Assistant to the Department Chair of the Jazz Department at the Bob Cole Conservatory of Music, coaching music students and leading several jazz combo and improvisation classes. Prior to CLASS, Evan served as Senior Administrative Specialist for the Department of Computer Science and Engineering at UNT supporting students through coordinating internships, CPT, class scheduling, and student enrollment. A professional musician specializing in the upright bass, you can find Evan performing on the weekends in various jazz clubs, restaurants, wineries, hotels, weddings, and corporate events across the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex. Evan is originally from the San Francisco Bay Area and enjoys a wide range of hobbies and interests including cooking, learning new recipes, going out to eat, basketball, baseball, and going for walks, just to name a few.
