Methodology

Career Services at the University of Pennsylvania annually surveys undergraduates about their summers. This report looks at rising sophomores, juniors and seniors from The Wharton School during the summer of 2016.

Summer 2016 Employment Report

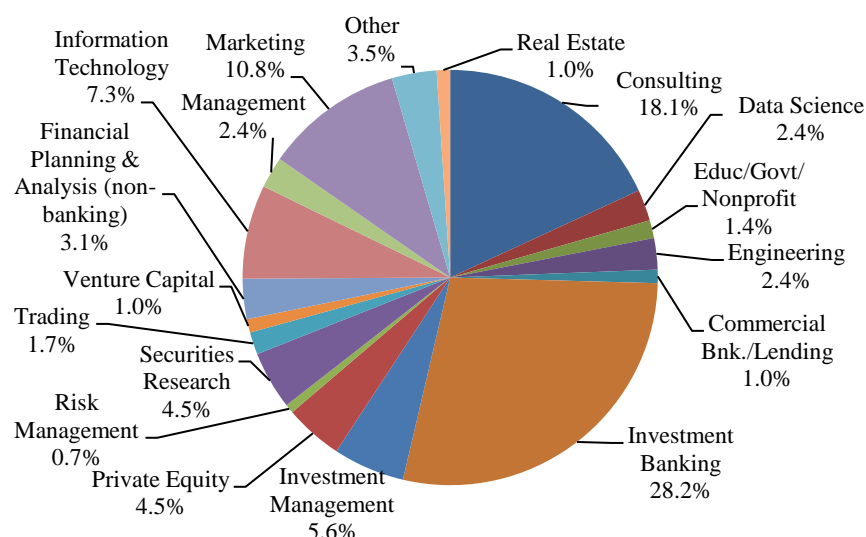

Wharton Undergraduate Class of 2017 – Rising Seniors

Student responses were collected using an online survey between August 2016 and December 2016. Of the 602 Wharton students scheduled to graduate during the 2016 – 2017 academic year, 299 completed the survey (50% response rate). Of those, 289 students indicated they worked during the summer (281 full-time, 4 part-time, and 4 didn't specify number of hours worked) while 10 pursued other activities.

Job Functions of Wharton Interns (including full and part-time positions)

Wharton students were once again very successful in landing summer opportunities, with 93% securing full-time, paid internships.

More students worked in marketing roles during 2016 (10.8% as opposed to 7.8% in 2015), as well as information technology (7.3% as opposed to 3.8%). Fewer students pursued opportunities in private equity (4.5% as opposed to 7.2% in 2015) and trading (1.7% as opposed to 2.5%)

Average monthly compensation across all full-time positions was $5,616, a slight decline from summer 2015.

Report prepared by Barbara Hewitt, Senior Associate Director, Career Services, University of Pennsylvania, March 2017

General Observations on Internship Recruiting for Summer 2016

Students seeking internships for the Summer of 2016 experienced a changing landscape for internship recruiting, particularly in financial services, as many firms decided to begin their recruiting earlier than in previous years and to conduct interviews outside of the traditional on-campus recruiting process. Therefore, we saw a much larger percentage of juniors report that they obtained their internships before the semester break (42.5% for Summer 2016 as opposed to 20.7% for Summer 2015) and a much lower percentage reporting that they obtained their internship through the on-campus recruiting process (33.9% in 2016 as opposed to 55.1% in 2015). It will be interesting to see if these numbers rebound for Summer 2017, as Penn Career Services opened up on-campus recruiting for internships in October this year as opposed to the previous start dates in February.

Date Internship Offer Was Received
