

NAIC Paradigm Changers Undergraduate & Graduate Internship Program

For over fifty years the National Association of Investment Companies (NAIC) has advocated on behalf of diverse alternative investment firms by increasing access to institutional capital, providing market education and addressing industry challenges. NAIC is currently comprised of 115 member firms representing over $185 billion in assets under management (AUM). For additional information about the NAIC, visit <http://www.naicpe.com>.

Through a partnership with the American Investment Council (AIC) and The Robert Toigo Foundation, the NAIC Paradigm Changers Undergraduate & Graduate Internship Program is designed to offer internships for diverse undergraduate and graduate women with the potential to lead in the field of alternative investments. Through internship opportunities, education, and career development programming, the program will prepare women from various academic disciplines including business, law, healthcare, technology, mathematics and engineering, among others, for careers in private equity. Applications for the Undergraduate and Graduate Internship Programs will be open from January 25, 2021 through March 1, 2021, with the inaugural cohort kicking off and being matched with an NAIC or AIC member firm for their summer internship beginning in June 2021.
